

Clearview Library District's Bookmobile Keeps Rolling!

The bookmobile, a branch of the Clearview Library District, is currently in its fourth year of rolling around the neighborhoods of Windsor, Severance and West Greeley, and is only picking up speed.

Also known as the "BOMO", the bookmobile brings an entire experience to every location it visits. Custom built, the BOMO is home to approximately 2500 items; including books, movies, and audio resources. Geared toward all ages and especially youth, the materials on the BOMO feature new and highly requested items and may also be seasonal or theme-related. All items are available to borrow at no cost with a Clearview Library District card, which can also be obtained at the BOMO. Library users may also receive assistance with their library account and readers advisory just as they would at the Windsor-Severance Library. Every stop offers an opportunity to play games, hear new stories, create arts and crafts (at our constantly changing and seasonal inspired craft table), and visit with the BOMO staff who love our patrons!

The BOMO staff is made up of approximately ten dedicated, fun and compassionate people, but the BOMO team includes all the friends and families that visit each and every day. This includes busy families who take time to stop when we are in their neighborhood, stay-at-home parents and grandparents wanting a fun diversion for their toddlers, kids looking for a place to hang out

To celebrate the start of its fifth year, the BOMO and the Clearview Library District invite all friends and families to a BOMO Birthday Party on Saturday, May 16th from 12:00pm-2:00pm in the lot of the Windsor-Severance Library. Live music, activities and crafts, birthday cake and food (donated by Windsor Lions Club) will commemorate the BOMO and its fans and help kick off another year of creating memories and building community!

WHAT TO READ, WATCH, LISTEN TO?

LIBRARY STAFF ARE READY TO HELP!

Just like the old question, "What's for dinner?" sometimes readers wonder, "What do I read next?" You just don't know what you're in the mood for. You need a really good book, but should you go with an old favorite or try a new author, and in digital or print? You need a really good movie or music cd, but what to choose? Clearview Library District staff pride themselves on excellent customer service and part of that is assisting you with just what you will like to read, listen to, or view, be it old or new, something familiar or something completely different. Library staff can help identify and make recommendations for what you may like. Staff can also direct you to new materials sections and staff picks displays in the Library. Check the Library website to view newly received and on order materials. Also on the website, check out the database "Novelist" which is a great resource for identifying read-a-likes by title, subject or author. Social networking sites such as Goodreads are another great way to discover something you would love to read. Whatever suits you to read, view, listen to, be it print, music CD's, DVD's, Blu-Ray, digital downloads or music streaming, the Library has just what you want.

Staff Spotlight

Meet Bud Hunt...

Hometown: Originally, Cary, NC. Now, Fort Collins.

Interests: Reading, writing, music, electronics. I'm really curious right now about habit formation as well as organizational culture.

Favorite Book: That's a difficult question, so I'm going to sidestep it and tell you about two really great books I just read. I just inhaled Ready Player One and thought it was fantastic. On the non-fiction side, I really thought Jon Ronson's So You've Been Publicly Shamed was quite good, too.

Favorite Quote: "Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed citizens can change the world; indeed, it's the only thing that ever has." - Margaret Mead Job at the Library: I'm the new IT Manager, and I'm really looking forward to serving the library staff and patrons through ensuring access to high quality resources and infrastructure.

Self-regulation involves being able to respond appropriately to the environment. Kids learn how to self-regulate in the first five years of life. The ability to self-manage is the greatest indicator of future reading and math skills.

Role play with your child. Read books about feelings, and talk about them. Play Freeze Dance to teach self-control: Dance to a song, and freeze when the music stops. Teach kids to take deep breaths when they are sad or angry.

after school and preschool groups that join us for storytimes while learning to check out and take care of books.

Running six (sometimes seven) days a week, in mornings and evenings, the BOMO aims to create connections throughout the community at convenient times and locations. One might find the BOMO at Eastman Park during Saturday soccer games or at their neighborhood park; such as those at Founders, Covenant Heights or Mountains Shadows. The BOMO visits various child care centers in the area and can also be found after church at Timberline Church and after school at Windsor Charter Academy and Rangeview Elementary. It can be found twice a week at Severance Town Hall where storytimes, Lego-building and science transpire inside town hall. Community special events such as Harvest Festival, Severance Days, and Concerts in the Park, provide a fun environment for the BOMO users and BOMO staff.
